Ahead of All Parting is an abundant selection of Rilke's lifework. It contains representative poems from his early collections The Book of Hours and The Book of Pictures; many selections from the revolutionary New Poems, which drew inspiration from Rodin and Cezanne; the hitherto little-known "Requiem for a Friend"; and a generous selection of the late uncollected poems, which constitute some of his finest work.

Be ahead of all parting, as though it already were behind you, like the winter that has just gone by. For among these winters there is one so endlessly winter that only by wintering through it all will your heart survive. Be forever dead in Eurydice—more gladly arise into the seamless life proclaimed in your song.

Be Ahead of All Parting. Be ahead of all parting, as if it had already happened, like winter, which even now is passing. For beneath the winter is a winter so endless. That to survive it at all is a triumph of the heart. Be forever dead in Eurydice, and climb back singing. Climb praising as you return to connection.

A 35-minute dance for six performers, Ahead of All Parting was originally created by Soll on a playground. The piece incorporates the non-traditional performing space's sense of space, the difficulty of the terrain, and the uncontrollable elements of sound, passersby and weather, with images derived from a series of sports photos.
